

Product Vision.

It is a service for students, professors, and, in general, all members of the educational community at Universidad EAFIT; who have a problem related to the difficult reservation of the university's sports and academic spaces. It is called EAFIT SpaceHub and is a web app that will allow members of the educational community to reserve spaces through a website; as well as prevent long waiting times or double bookings of the same space. Unlike making the reservation in person or sending a request via email and waiting for a response, as it is currently done, our service saves time and makes it easier for every single person interested to reserve and use the different spaces that the university offers.

It is a [service]

for [students, professors, and, in general, all members of the educational community at Universidad EAFIT] who have a [problem related to the difficult reservation of the university's sports and academic spaces].

It is called [EAFIT SpaceHub]

and is a [web app]

that [will allow members of the educational community to reserve spaces through a website; as well as prevent long waiting times or double bookings of the same space].

Unlike [making the reservation in person or sending a request via email and waiting for a response, as it is currently done], our [service saves time and makes it easier for every single person interested to reserve and use the different spaces that the university offers].